

Hello! It's been 7 months since I came to Canada. Time flies much faster in Canada actually. I wish I could stay here longer.

I had spring break for 2 weeks. I enjoyed it a lot. I went to a farm. There are so many cows and goats, I bought cheese and milk. Those were much nicer than the general ones. Well, I remembered cheese and milk in Japan too, but why the milk in farm is much better?

Also, I went to Chemainus, which is one of the cities in Canada. There are many Murals, which mean art on the wall. They were beautiful, and I liked them.

I begin to realize that I go back to Japan soon. I feel I must spend more time with my host family, friends, and at school. I want to do more fun things, first-hand experience that I can have only in Canada.
