For Households with a Student Enrolled in a Tokyo Metropolitan High School

Regular Benefit

Academic Year 2026

Information on the Tokyo Metropolitan Grant for Students of National and Public High Schools

The Tokyo Metropolitan Grant for Students is a program under which a fixed, non-repayable benefit is transferred to the guardian's bank account to help reduce the burden of educational expenses other than tuition, such as textbooks, teaching materials, school supplies, and extracurricular activities.

Starting in Academic Year 2026, eligibility has been expanded to include households with an annual income of approximately ¥4.9 million (the resident tax income levy of less than ¥182,500).

※ The annual income figures above are only guidelines. Since the resident tax income levy varies depending on the number of dependent family members and other factors, households with an annual income of ¥4.9 million or more may also be eligible.

※Those who do not wish to apply for the Tokyo Metropolitan Grant for Students are not required to complete the application procedures: however, please submit the "Declaration of Non-Application" in accordance with the school's instructions.

※This program has different submission deadlines and eligibility requirements from the High School Tuition Support Fund and the Grant-Type Scholarship Program. Please make sure to check the requirements carefully.

1 Household Eligibility Category Check Chart

As of July 1, 2026, do your guardian(s) (Note 1) reside in Tokyo?

- NO → Please submit your application to the prefecture in which you reside. Because submission deadlines and required documents differ by prefecture, please contact your prefectural office as soon as possible.
- YES ↓

As of July 1, 2026, are your guardian(s) receiving public assistance (vocational assistance)?

- YES → The benefit amount is the one applicable to Households Receiving Public Assistance (Vocational Assistance).
- NO ↓

Is the combined annual income of all guardian(s) in 2025 approximately less than ¥4.9 million? (This also includes households in which income has decreased significantly due to a sudden change in household finances and the combined annual income of all guardian(s) is expected to be approximately less than ¥4.9 million.)

※ "Approximately less than ¥4.9 million in annual income" refers to households where the combined total of prefectural and municipal resident tax income levy for FY 2026 is less than ¥182,500.

- NO → Not eligible for this program. ※ Applications due to a sudden change in household finances are accepted at any time. For details, please contact the office listed under "8　Inquiries."
- YES ↓

As of July 1, 2026, is the student enrolled in one of the following types of schools?

A Full-Time or Part-Time Course at a national or public high school, or Upper Secondary Division of a national or public secondary school

B Correspondence Course at a national or public high school

- Select A → The benefit amount is the one applicable to Tax-Exempt Households (for Full-Time/Part-Time Course) or Households with an Annual Income of ¥2.7 - 4.9 million (for Full-Time/Part-Time Course).

  The benefit amount varies depending on the resident tax income levy. Please see the next page for details.

- Select B → The benefit amount is the one applicable to Tax-Exempt Households (for Correspondence Course) or Households with an Annual Income of Approximately ¥2.7–4.9 million (for Correspondence Course).

  The benefit amount varies depending on the resident tax income levy. Please see the next page for details.

(Note 1) In principle, "guardian(s)" refers to the person(s) who have parental authority over the student. If the student has no parental authority holder, it refers to a person financially supporting the student through their income (primary financial supporter).

(Note 2) Students are not eligible if the requirements specified in "3　Detailed Eligibility Requirements" on the reverse side are not met.

※If the application is submitted by September 15, 2026, the benefit is scheduled to be paid around December 2026.
※If a school uniform that students are required to wear is lost or damaged due to a disaster or other circumstances and must be repurchased, an additional benefit may be available. If you wish to apply for this additional benefit, please contact the office listed under "8 Inquiries."
※The category for households with an annual income of ¥2.7 million to less than ¥4.9 million applies only to students who are eligible to receive the High School Tuition Support Fund [New System] or Relearning Support Fund [New System].

3 Detailed Eligibility Requirements

Guardians who meet all of the following requirements as of July 1, 2026 (the reference date):

1 There must be a student enrolled in a national or public high school who is eligible to receive the High School Tuition Support Fund, New High School Educational Support Fund, or Relearning Support Fund.
※ Students are not eligible if they live in a children's home or are placed with a foster family and receive special public support for expenses such as school trips or special care.
※ If multiple siblings are eligible for this program, a separate application must be submitted for each student.

2 The guardian(s) must have an address in Tokyo.
※ If the guardian(s) have an address outside Tokyo, the application should be submitted to the prefecture where they reside.
※ Even if the student is enrolled in a national or public high school outside Tokyo, if the guardian(s) have an address in Tokyo, the application should be submitted to the Tokyo Metropolitan Board of Education.

3 The household must meet one of the following conditions:
・The household is receiving public assistance; or
・It can be certified that the combined total of prefectural and municipal resident tax income levy for all guardians is less than ¥182,500; or
・Due to a sudden change in household finances, such as unemployment or business failure by a guardian, household income has decreased significantly, and it is expected that the household will meet the equivalent income requirements for a household whose combined total of prefectural and municipal resident tax income levy for all guardians are less than ¥182,500.

※ If, for any reason, a taxation certificate or other required document cannot be obtained, or the tax amount cannot be verified, the household is not eligible for this program.
※ Loss of employment for reasons unrelated to a disaster, such as mandatory retirement, does not qualify as a sudden change in household finances.
※ The category for households with an annual income of ¥2.7 million to less than ¥4.9 million applies only to students who are eligible to receive the High School Tuition Support Fund [New System] or Relearning Support Fund [New System].

4 Frequently Asked Questions

Q1 How can I determine whether the resident tax income levy is less than ¥182,500?
A1 You can check this on the Notice of Special Collection of Municipal Resident Tax provided by your employer/workplace, or on the Notice of Resident Tax Payment sent by the municipality where you reside. If you do not have either of these documents, please obtain and check your Resident Tax (Taxation/Exemption) Certificates for FY 2026 at the ward/city office or town/village office where you resided as of January 1, 2026.

Q2 I am working overseas and therefore do not have an address in Japan. Since I am receiving the High School Tuition Support Fund, can I also receive the Tokyo Metropolitan Grant for Students?
A2 One of the requirements for receiving the Tokyo Metropolitan Grant for Students is that all guardians have an address in Japan. If a guardian is working overseas and even one of the guardians does not have an address in Japan, the student is not eligible for the Tokyo Metropolitan Grant for Students.
However, as long as one of the guardians has an address within Tokyo as of July 1, 2026, and it can be certified that all guardians' 2026 prefectural and municipal resident tax income levy are less than ¥182,500, the household will be considered eligible.

Q3 I have not yet filed my final tax return. Can I apply?
A3 If you have not filed your final tax return, you cannot submit a Certificate of Resident Taxation or have your tax amount verified using your My Number. As a result, it is not possible to confirm whether your resident tax is less than ¥182,500, and you cannot apply. Please file your final tax return or complete the necessary tax procedures as soon as possible.
However, if you are receiving public assistance (vocational assistance) as of July 1, 2026, you do not need to file a final tax return or complete other tax procedures. In this case, please submit a Certificate of Receipt of Vocational Assistance Benefits.

Q4 I transferred to another school (or withdrew from school) after July 1. Can I still apply? If so, should I submit the application to the school I transferred to?
A4 Yes, you can apply. Please submit the application to the school in which you were enrolled as of July 1.

Q5 What types of documents can be submitted to certify the reason for a sudden change in household finances?
A5 Examples include a Certificate of Separation from Employment, Employment Insurance Eligibility Certificate, Notice of Dismissal, Notice of Bankruptcy Declaration, Notification of Business Closure, etc.
If it is difficult to submit any of the above documents, please submit a document that can verify the occurrence of the sudden change in household finances, such as a notice of suspension of business operations or a work shift schedule showing a significant reduction in working days.

6 Important Notes Regarding the Application

(1)Documents submitted once cannot be returned. If you need to retain the original document, please submit a copy instead. When submitting a copy, make sure that all names and other information are clearly legible.

(2)If a parental authority holder or an appointed statutory guardian of a minor falls under any of the following four categories, that person's income will not be included in the eligibility assessment. Since you do not need to submit documents to verify that person's income, please proceed with the application as if there were no parental authority holder or appointed statutory guardian of a minor, and submit the required documents accordingly.
① A head of a Child Guidance Center who temporarily exercises parental authority ② A head of a child welfare facility ③ An appointed statutory guardian of a minor that is a corporation ④ An appointed statutory guardian of a minor whose authority is limited to exercising powers concerning property

■Handling of Submitted Personal Information

Personal information of students and guardians collected by the Tokyo Metropolitan Board of Education under this program will be strictly and appropriately managed in accordance with applicable laws and regulations. If operations related to the Tokyo Metropolitan Grant for Students are outsourced to another organization, the Tokyo Metropolitan Board of Education will provide necessary and appropriate supervision of the contractor.
Please note that submitted income verification documents may also be used for other educational support programs, including the High School Tuition Support Fund, New High School Education Support Fund, Tokyo Metropolitan School Grant-Type Scholarship, and Tokyo Metropolitan School Relearning Support Fund.
