

SCHOOL MOTTO

DETERMINATION EXPLORATION CREATION

This motto was first preached by Choshichi Ito, the first principal of the school in 1918, and remains our motto to this day. We educate students to be able to determine their aim, explore their way, and create their culture. Following this motto, we encourage students to be independent and continue to apply this motto to life's challenges beyond graduation.

We expect our graduates to:

- (1) Keep a positive attitude and high spirits as they enhance their own ability and individuality, never complacent with their present capabilities.
- (2) Acquire enriched education and sensitivity representing Japan in an international society.
- (3) To apply their strengths in science, math, foreign language and diplomacy to take a leadership position in their chosen fields.
