Student Council

For our students with political interests, the Student Council provides a practical, hands-on understanding of leadership roles. There are two major organizations. The first is a council meeting based on the National Diet meeting's rules of order. Elected from each homeroom, representatives hold meetings to discuss and make decisions on matters of student life.

The other is the Central Council led by the president of the Student Council, based on the Japanese government structure. Twelve students, elected by the student body, actively and eagerly put decisions into practice and lead various activities.
