Hello, my name is Kristina, but please call me Kris! Originally, I am from Atlanta, Georgia in the United States of America. I am 24 years old and I have been working at Naruse High School for 2 years.

I think every day is a new adventure and story. At Naruse High School, I always feel excited because everybody is so nice and it is always a fun time. Some days are difficult and other days have troubles, but I think our students have power to become stronger in those days. I believe in them.

In Atlanta, we have an expression. It is “we in this.” This expression means we have trouble, but we have friends to share the trouble. We can work together! So, I hope everybody can always help their classmates.

Hello I am Harry, a new JET from Scotland in the UK!

I am so happy to be here in Japan and at Naruse High School. Japan and Scotland have many similarities. They are both island countries. Both have beautiful forests and beautiful mountain ranges. Both are known to have many kind, well mannered people.

But there is also a lot that make Scotland and Japan different. The weather is very different, Scotland is cold most of the year! It has a small population of only 5.5 million! However rugby is very popular and hope both Scotland and Japan do well in the World Cup hosted here in Japan next month!

I feel privileged to be working in my new role at Naruse and look forward to learning more about Japanese culture as I teach about my own culture through teaching English and really look forward to this new opportunity!

Thank you for having me at the school, I promise to do my best!
